RE: Docket #98P-1194

Dear Public Servant:

As a woman whose mother died of breast cancer, placing me at high risk of this dread disease myself, I was appalled to learn that milk I've been drinking since 1993 may have increased my risk due to the FDA's approval of recombinant bovine growth hormone. It is nothing short of a travesty that this was done without assessment of the long-term consequences to consumers' health and contrary to advice from the National Institute of Health and the American Medical Association.

I can only add that I was delighted, on the other hand, to hear that the Center for Food Safety plans to sue your agency if r-BGH is not removed from the market as soon as possible. This legal effort will have my wholehearted support. Should this effort fail, I have only the cold comfort of knowing that I and my two female children may very well be prime candidates for a class action in years to come.

Sincerely,

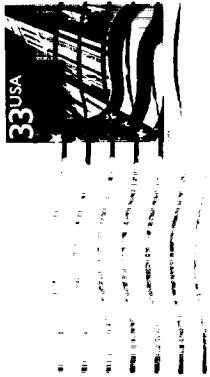

Anesa Miller
